If you want to add these lectures to your Google Calendar, you can do so by importing these readings' CSV file into your Google Calendar.

Download the CSV

Importing this CSV will create an all-day event for each reading and show your status for that full day as "busy." If others need to see your actual free-busy status in Google Calendar, you should create a new calendar and import the CSV there rather than into your main calendar. For detailed instructions about creating a new calendar in Google Calendar, please see the Google Calendar help pages.
